Spring 2012, Pufendorf Institute, Lund University

Friday, March 9, 13.15 - 15.00
Accumulation by dispossession around the globe: The political economy of fisheries policy
Carsten Pedersen, Masifundise Development Trust, South Africa
Mads Barbesgaard, Africa Contact, Denmark

Tuesday, March 13, 13.15 - 15.00
Urban agonistes: Reading spatial discontinuities in contested cities
Wendy Pullan, History and Philosophy of Architecture, University of Cambridge

Friday March 23, 10:15-12:00
The friendship hypothesis: Evolutionary and anthropological perspectives on human response to culturally diverse and inequitable social fields
John Edward Terrell, Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago

Thursday, April 26, 13:15-15:00
Policing race and class through space in the neoliberal city
Bernd Belina, Institute of Human Geography, Goethe Universität, Frankfurt am Main

Wednesday, May 2, 15.15 - 17.00
A Cultural Political Economy of Crisis Responses: China’s ‘Gold Standard’ Stimulus Package and the Dispossessed Subaltern South
Ngai-Ling Sum, Department of Politics, Philosophy and Religion and Cultural Political Economy Research Centre, Lancaster University

Thursday, May 3, 14:15-17:00
DeGrowth: The global ethical trilemma of prosperity, social justice, and ecological sustainability
Jan Otto Andersson, Political Economy, Åbo Akademi University, Turku/Åbo, Finland
Monday, May 7,

9.15 - 13.00
Uneven dynamics of growth, equity, and inclusion in Latin America

Deeply-rooted inequities and factors facilitating social change in Latin America
Julio Berdegue, RIMISP (Chile), Coordinator of research project: Rural Territorial Dynamics.

Gender, masculinities and historical change in Latin America
Susan Paulson, Pufendorf Institute, Lund University

The role of inequality in territory-based natural resource governance
Helle Munk Ravnborg, Natural Resources and Poverty Research, Danish Institute for International Studies

Territory as spatialized power relations and its implication for thinking development
Andrea Nardi, Human Geography, Lund University

14.15 - 17.00
Decolonization and Depatriarchalization: Uprooting unequal systems of race, gender, ethnicity,

Decolonizing Postcolonial Studies and the Paradigms of Political Economy
Ramón Grosfoguel, University of California, Berkeley

Either resistance or defeat. Western scholarship representation of the “South”
Diana Mulinari, Gender Studies, Lund University

Decolonization and Depatriarchalization: A View from Bolivia
Anders Burman, Human Ecology, Lund University

Late May
Power and change: Civic and intellectual action against inequity
David Graeber, Anthropology, Goldsmiths, University of London
Alf Hornborg, Human Ecology, Lund University

Monday, May 28 14.15 - 17.00
The closet in the locker room. Bodily control and discrimination in European sports and sexuality
Erik Jensen, European history, Miami University

For questions or suggestions, please contact Susan Paulson, Pufendorf Research Fellow, at 222 6210 or Susan.Paulson@hek.lu.se